SWEET SINGER SCORES TRIUMPH

Miss Nannie Tout Appears in the Theatre.

GREAT AUDIENCE APPLAUDS

YOUNG WOMAN HAS A WONDER-FUL VOICE.

There may be greater voices than Nannie Tout's this side of the Mississippi, but if there are they have not been heard here; and it is doubtful whether any girl of her years and experience in this country has such posoilities as she showed in her concert at the Theatre last evening. Moreover, she will never have a more cordial welcome than the great audience gave on her every appearance.

Since it was more of a home-coming han a professional appearance, critieism would be disarmed in advance, even if there were any disposition to critical. The simple fact is that so Tout has a wonderful voice, and at 18 its full power must be still undeto high F, giving it a compass equal to the most exacting demands of Wagnerian opera, the accepted test of a ing's numbers she demonstrated beyond question her ability in vocalization of the most difficult order, and in the final ballad given as an encore her voice you next Wednesday evening. showed a sweetness, a purity and sympathetic quality quite as rare and effective as its more phenomenal oper-atic power. She has, too, the very great advantage of an attractive peronality and fine physique.

"Der Freischutz,' the opening num-er, was given with the stage setting and light effects of the opera, and the solo was splendidly rendered, though not well adapted for an initial appearance in concert. "Merci Diletta Amici was more enthusiastically received and won an encore, a cuckoo song, given with delightful spirit. The Oberon aria, "Ocean, Thou Mighty Monster," given as a concluding number, was a magnificent rendition of a most dif-ficult selection, developing the great range of Miss Tout's voice, its dramatic power and the singer's ability in inter-pretation most satisfactorily. For an core, demanded by the audience before it would leave, the soloist sang 'Ben Bolt' so exquisitely, with such perfect sympathy and taste, that it was unquestionably the best appreci-An appreciation of Miss Tout's sing-from headaches; sometimes they were so violent that, groaning in agony, I would pace the floor or garden holding my throbbing head for relief.

"I tried all sorts of remedies known to the allopathic and homeopathic schools; sometimes I thought it was caused by the stomach or biliousness, and again I would suspect it was purely nervousness and treated myself accordingly; but nothing ever gave me permanent relief. Having to appear before the public nearly every night, it was sometimes almost impossible for me to fulfill my engagements. Finally I came to suspect that the use of tea and coffee had something to do with my disorder, and abruptly discontinued the use of both and took on Postum for a trial.

"From that happy hour I commenced to mend; gradually I got better and better, and now I do not have a headache once in six months, and all my other troubles are gone, too. I am now using Postum exclusively and want no better beverage.

REGULARS RETURN FROM THE STATE CAMP, COMMANDER TO MAKE RECOMMENDATIONS

Companies F and L of the Twenty-ninth regular infantry, under command of Captain G. H. Jamerson, arrived at Fort Douglas at 11 o'clock yesterday Fort Douglas at 11 o'clock yesterday morning, marching from the late national guard encampment at Utah lake, near Provo. By the road traveled the distance is fifty-five miles. The companies left the camp at an early hour Saturday morning and camped that night at Lehi. Camp was made Sunday night at Sandy. As some of the men were troubled with blistered feet, no attempt was made to make the march home a record-breaker. There are several new recruits in each of the two companies, and they are not yet broken into marching and carrying their arms and accourtements. The march to and from the Provo camp was the first in which they have participated.

Captain Jamerson will make a confidential report on the encampment to Governor Wells and to the military secretary at Washington. This document will not be made public until it

VALUABLE TOOLS ALL DISAPPEAR FROM MYSTERIOUS HOLE EAST OF CITY

Gone are the tools that were in the mysterious hole on a knoll in the rear of the residences of Edward F. Colborn and Judge O. W. Powers, on Fort Douglas avenue about a mile northeast of the fort. Two weeks ago there were surveying instruments, tools and electrical appliances worth from $250 to $300 in the bottom of the hole, which had reached a depth of about ten feet. Now these articles are missing, and it is not known whether the were taken away by the hole-digger or by someone else.

Some men who are employed at a lime kiln on a hillside back of the hole say they saw a middle-aged, slim built, dark complexioned man, about five feet six or was, not, right in his mind.
